MONUMENTAL SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Monumental Sports & Entertainment (MSE), located in Washington, D.C., is one of the largest integrated sports and entertainment companies in the country with one of the most diverse partnership groups in all of sports. MSE owns and operates seven professional sports teams: NBA's Washington Wizards, NBA G League's Capital City Go-Go, NBA 2K League's Wizards District Gaming, the 2018 NHL Stanley Cup Champion Washington Capitals and the 2019 WNBA Champion Washington Mystics. The company is also co-owner of aXiomatic, which has controlling interest in global esports franchise Team Liquid, and owns and operates Capital One Arena in Washington, D.C. Monumental Sports & Entertainment also manages MedStar Capitals Iceplex, the state-of-the-art training facility for the Capitals and EagleBank Arena on George Mason University's campus. In conjunction with the District of Columbia and Events DC, MSE is a partner in a new sports and entertainment facility in Southeast DC on the St. Elizabeth's East campus that opened in September 2018. Facility highlights include MedStar Wizards Performance Center, the brand-new training facility for the Wizards, Go-Go and Mystics, and a 4,200-seat arena which will serve as the new home of the Mystics and Go-Go. Monumental Sports & Entertainment also co-owns and operates Monumental Sports Network (MSN) with the NBC Sports Group. MSN is the mid-Atlantic region's top destination for exclusive fan experiences and original sports content across desktop, tablet, mobile and OTT streaming devices. Visit www.monumentalsports.com.

TED LEONSIS

Founder, Chairman, Principal Partner & Chief Executive Officer, Monumental Sports & Entertainment

TED LEONSIS is founder, chairman, principal partner and chief executive officer of Monumental Sports & Entertainment, which owns and operates the 2020 NBA 2K League Champion Wizards District Gaming, the 2019 WNBA Champion Washington Mystics, the NHL's 2018 Stanley Cup Champion Washington Capitals, the NBA's Washington Wizards, and the NBA G League's Capital City Go-Go. Leonsis is a co-owner of aXiomatic, which has controlling interest in global esports franchise Team Liquid. Monumental also owns the 20,000-seat Capital One Arena and operates MedStar Capitals Iceplex, the Capitals' training facility, and George Mason University's EagleBank Arena.

An integrated media, technology, sports and entertainment company, MSE also owns Monumental Sports Network, a first-of-its-kind regional sports network for digital, mobile and over-the-top (OTT) platforms.

Leonsis serves on the Board of Governors for the NBA and NHL, as well as on the Executive Committee of the NHL. He is also chairman of the NBA Media Committee.

As part of a joint venture with the D.C. Mayor's Office and Events DC, MSE unveiled the Entertainment & Sports Arena, a brand-new sports and entertainment facility in Southeast D.C. on the St. Elizabeths East campus, which opened in the Fall of 2018. This cutting-edge 4,200-seat venue and basketball facility includes a top-of-the-line practice facility for the Wizards and serves as the Mystics and Go-Go home court.

As cofounder and partner at Revolution Growth, a $1 billion set of investment funds, Leonsis and his partners make a select group of speed-up capital investments in businesses each year, typically investing $25-50 million per deal.

Mr. Leonsis is a nationally recognized entrepreneur, investor, philanthropist and award-winning filmmaker, who has won Peabody and Emmy awards. He also serves on the boards of several public companies, American Express and Groupon; and is the former vice chairman and president of AOL.

Dear Wizards Fans,

While we have missed being able to see and hear you cheer us on in person, we are still extremely grateful for your support during this unique season. We are all doing our part to combat the global pandemic, and hopefully we can all safely return to Capital One Arena soon to root for our Wizards.

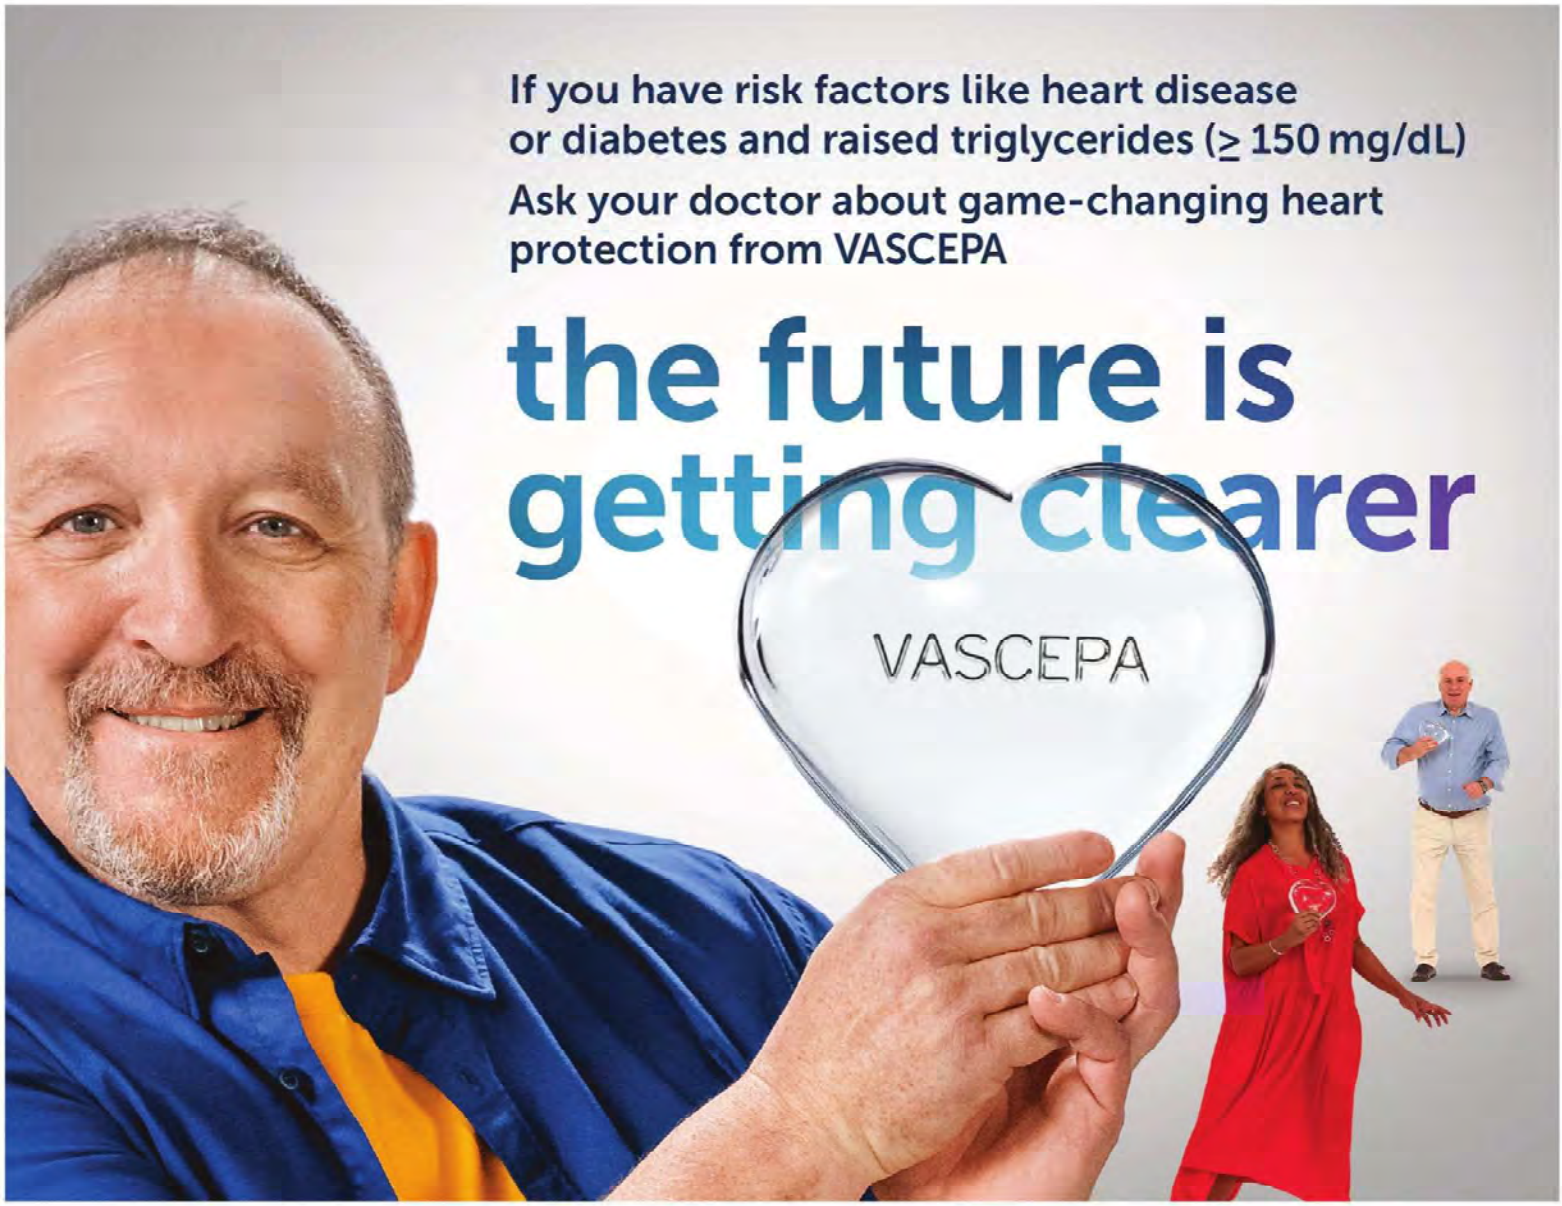
We are thankful that you continue to follow the team on television, radio and through our Virtual Gameday experience. Our players, coaches and staff are thrilled that we are still able to engage and interact with you through our social channels. The past year has been challenging to say the least but, with your support, we continue to work hard and compete every night to raise the level of excitement for our play on the court and make you proud of our efforts to improve our communities off the court.

Despite the unusual circumstances, this season has given us many bright spots. We have been able to watch Bradley Beal blossom into the league's leading scorer...and because of you, he garnered the most fan votes in the franchise's history as a starter in the All-Star Game. We are thrilled to have former NBA MVP Russell Westbrook on our team. He has brought a new level of intensity and leadership to our team and has already surpassed the franchise record for most triple-doubles. We are excited about the development of our young international players Rui Hachimura and Deni Avdija and the return of sharpshooter Davis Bertans. Their presence and performance have elevated our team on the global stage.

I am optimistic that each passing day brings us closer to welcoming you back to Capital One Arena. Our players are eager to play in front of their D.C. family. They understand that the energy and support that you bring is unmatched and we are all grateful for it.

Sincerely,

Ted Leonsis



INDICATIONS AND IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

WHAT IS VASCEPA?

VASCEPA is a prescription medicine used:

- along with certain medicines (statins) to reduce the risk of heart attack, stroke and certain types of heart issues requiring hospitalization in adults with heart (cardiovascular) disease, or diabetes and 2 or more additional risk factors for heart disease.
- along with a low-fat and low-cholesterol diet to lower high levels of triglycerides (fats) in adults.

It is not known if VASCEPA changes your risk of having inflammation of your pancreas (pancreatitis).

It is not known if VASCEPA is safe and effective in children.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

WHO SHOULD NOT TAKE VASCEPA?

- Do not take VASCEPA if you are allergic to icosapent ethyl or any of the ingredients in VASCEPA.

WHAT ARE THE POSSIBLE SIDE EFFECTS OF VASCEPA?

VASCEPA may cause serious side effects, including:

- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation and atrial flutter). Heart rhythm problems which can be serious and cause hospitalization have happened in people who take VASCEPA, especially in people who have heart (cardiovascular) disease or diabetes with a risk factor for heart (cardiovascular) disease, or who have had heart rhythm problems in the past. Tell your doctor if you get any symptoms of heart rhythm problems such as feeling as if your heart is beating fast and irregular, lightheadedness, dizziness, shortness of breath, chest discomfort or you faint.
- Possible allergic reactions if you are allergic to fish or shellfish. Stop taking VASCEPA and tell your doctor right away or get emergency medical help if you have any signs or symptoms of an allergic reaction.
- Bleeding. Serious bleeding can happen in people who take VASCEPA. Your risk of bleeding may increase if you are also taking a blood thinner medicine.

Celebrate 25% risk reduction with VASCEPA® when added to a statin*

In a clinical study, patients treated with VASCEPA had fewer cardiovascular events (17.2%) compared to those who took placebo (22%).

Taking statins, exercising, and eating right can lower your risk of a heart attack or stroke, but not as much as you may think. Prescription VASCEPA can also reduce your risk.

VASCEPA is clinically proven to offer 25% less risk from heart attack and stroke when added to a statin.

Ask your doctor about VASCEPA today.

If you have liver problems and are taking VASCEPA, your doctor should do blood tests during treatment.

The most common side effects of VASCEPA include:

- Muscle and joint pain
- Swelling of the hands, legs, or feet
- Constipation
- Gout
- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation)

These are not all the possible side effects of VASCEPA. Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects.

You may report adverse events (i.e. side effects) or product complaints by calling 1-855-VASCEPA (1-855-827-2372), emailing AmarinMI@druginfo.com, or calling the FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

Tell your doctor if you take medicines that affect your blood clotting (anticoagulants or blood thinners).

Please see next page for Patient Information or call 1-855-VASCEPA (1-855-827-2372).

Commercially insured patients can pay as little as

$9 for a 90-day supply.†

Subject to availability. Restrictions apply. VASCEPA is covered without restriction for the majority of patients.

What is VASCEPA?

VASCEPA is a prescription medicine used along with certain medicines (statins) to reduce the risk of heart attack, stroke, and certain types of heart issues requiring hospitalization in adults with heart (cardiovascular) disease, or diabetes and 2 or more additional risk factors for heart disease. It's also used along with a low-fat and low-cholesterol diet to lower high levels of triglycerides (fats) in adults.

It is not known if VASCEPA changes your risk of having inflammation of your pancreas (pancreatitis).

It is not known if VASCEPA is safe and effective in children.

Do not take VASCEPA if you are allergic to icosapent ethyl or any of the ingredients in VASCEPA. See the end of this summary for a complete list of ingredients in VASCEPA.

Before taking VASCEPA, tell your doctor about all of your medical conditions, including if you:

- have diabetes.
- have a low thyroid problem (hypothyroidism).
- have a liver problem.
- have a pancreas problem.
- are allergic to fish or shellfish. It is not known if people who are allergic to fish or shellfish are also allergic to VASCEPA.
- are pregnant, or planning to become pregnant. It is not known if VASCEPA will harm your unborn baby.
- are breastfeeding or plan to breastfeed. VASCEPA can pass into your breast milk, and may harm your baby. Talk to your doctor about the best way to feed your baby if you take VASCEPA.

Tell your doctor about all the medicines you take, including prescription and over-the-counter medicines, vitamins, and dietary or herbal supplements.

VASCEPA can interact with certain other medicines that you are taking.

Especially tell your doctor if you take medicines that affect your blood clotting (anticoagulants or blood thinners).

How should I take VASCEPA?

- Take VASCEPA exactly as your doctor tells you to take it.
- Do not change your dose or stop taking VASCEPA without talking to your doctor.
- Do not take more capsules than what is prescribed by your doctor.
  - If you are prescribed the 0.5 gram capsules, you should not take more than 8 capsules each day with food.
  - If you are prescribed the 1 gram capsules, you should not take more than 4 capsules each day with food.
- Take VASCEPA capsules whole. Do not break, crush, dissolve, or chew VASCEPA capsules before swallowing.
- If you miss a dose of VASCEPA, take it as soon as you remember. However, if you miss one day of VASCEPA, do not double your dose when you take it.
- Your doctor may start you on a diet that is low in saturated fat, cholesterol, carbohydrates, and low in added sugars before giving you VASCEPA. Stay on this diet while taking VASCEPA.
- Your doctor may do blood tests to check your triglyceride and other lipid levels while you take VASCEPA.

What are the possible side effects of VASCEPA?

VASCEPA may cause serious side effects, including:

- Heart rhythm problems (atrial fibrillation and atrial flutter). Heart rhythm problems which can be serious and cause hospitalization have happened in people who take VASCEPA, especially in people who have heart (cardiovascular) disease or diabetes with a risk factor for heart (cardiovascular) disease, or who have had heart rhythm problems in the past. These are not all the possible side effects of VASCEPA. Call your doctor for medical advice about side effects. You may report side effects to FDA at 1-800-FDA-1088.

How should I store VASCEPA?

- Store VASCEPA at room temperature between 68° to 77° F (20° to 25° C).
- Safely throw away medicine that is out of date or no longer needed.

Keep VASCEPA and all medicine out of the reach of children.

General information about the safe and effective use of VASCEPA. Medicines are sometimes prescribed for purposes other than those listed in a Patient Information leaflet. Do not use VASCEPA for a condition for which it was not prescribed. Do not give VASCEPA to other people, even if they have the same symptoms that you have. It may harm them. You can ask your pharmacist or healthcare provider for information about VASCEPA that is written for health professionals.

TOMMY SHEPPARD

General Manager, Washington Wizards

TOMMY SHEPPARD enters his 27th year of service in the NBA and his second as general manager of the Washington Wizards. As general manager, Sheppard will lead strategy, analytics, player personnel, scouting and coaching for the Wizards, Go-Go and District Gaming.

Sheppard has earned a reputation as one of the league's most innovative and creative executives. In his first draft as general manager, he selected Rui Hachimura with the ninth overall pick. Hachimura was selcted to the 2019-20 NBA All-Rookie Second Team, becoming the fifth player overall in frachise history to be selected to the team. In 17 years in the Wizards' front office, his role included responsibilities with salary cap management, negotiations, draft preparation and talent evaluation of collegiate athletes and professionals, both domestically and abroad. Sheppard also served an assisting role in the recruitment and evaluation of free agents, statistical evaluation of NBA players, the hiring of coaches and personnel and monitoring the Wizards' efforts in the NBA's Player Programs. During his tenure with the team, he has been tasked with organizing the Wizards' training camp and preseason schedules; overseeing the athletic training, strength training, video, technology and equipment areas for the team; and directing in-arena renovations to areas including the Wizards' locker room, players' lounge, family lounge and front offices.

Prior to his arrival in Washington in 2003, Sheppard was a member of the Denver Nuggets organization since 1994, serving as the Nuggets' Senior Director of Team Services and Player Relations. With Denver, he oversaw all internal and external communications functions and served as the club's primary spokesperson. He also scouted internationally and evaluated high school, collegiate and minor league talent. For his efforts in Denver and overall contributions to the communications efforts of the NBA, Sheppard was honored with the prestigious Splaver/McHugh "Tribute to Excellence" Award in 2010, which is given annually by the NBA Public Relations Directors' Association to a current or former member of the NBA public relations family who has demonstrated an outstanding level of performance and service during his or her NBA career.

An active figure within the United States Olympic Movement for over a decade, Sheppard worked as a press attaché for the three Summer Olympic Games (1996, 2000, 2004), as well as three Olympic Festivals and the 2003 Pan American Games. He assisted with the formation of the Northern European Basketball League (which realigned as part of FIBA Europe) and continues to serve as a consultant for Lithuanian legend Sarunas Marciulionis, who was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in 2014, on various basketball projects.

Currently an adjunct professor at Georgetown University for the Sports Industry Management Program, Sheppard graduated from New Mexico State University in 1991, where he was a three-year member of the Aggie football team. After getting his start in media relations as a student assistant at New Mexico State, Sheppard headed the sports information office at UNLV before taking ranks in the National Basketball Association in 1994. He also serves on the Industry Advisory Council for the American Public University and the American Military University Systems. Sheppard and his wife, Rosie, are the parents of five daughters: Bailey, Rebekah, Abby, Emma and Tessa, and two sons, Tommy Jr., and Luke

SCOTT BROOKS

Head Coach, Washington Wizards

SCOTT BROOKS has led the Wizards for the past four seasons after being named as head coach on April 26, 2016. Brooks has an overall record of 487-376 (.564) during his decade on the sidelines, fifth among active coaches in total wins and ninth among active coaches in win percentage.

In his third season as Wizards Head Coach, Brooks' continued record of developing players was recognized. Bradley Beal established himself as a top guard in the league posting career highs in points, rebounds and assists, while earning his second NBA All-Star nod, and Thomas Bryant flourished in his second year of play shooting .616 from the field, making him the franchise leader in field goal percentage. Brooks reached his 100th win as the Wizards head coach vs. the Houston Rockets on November 26, 2018, and the 2018-19 season marked only the second time in his head coaching career that his team finished with a win/loss record below .500.

Brooks led the Wizards to a 43-39 mark during the 2017-18 season, keeping the team in the playoff picture despite John Wall missing 41 games. His stellar track record of player development continued to pay dividends, as Tomas Satoransky and Kelly Oubre Jr. both stepped up with career seasons while Bradley Beal's game blossomed (earning his first All-Star nod) and Otto Porter Jr. made steady improvements. Brooks was able to combine their contributions with improved play from the entire team during Wall's absence, culminating in him being named Eastern Conference Coach of the Month in February after leading the Wizards to an 8-4 record. It was the fifth Coach of the Month honor of Brooks' career (and second with the Wizards).

In his first season at the helm, Brooks led the Wizards to a 49-33 record and a Southeast Division title, Washington's first division title in 38 years. The 49 wins were the most since the 1978-79 campaign when the Bullets finished 54-28. Brooks, who incorporated nine new players that were not on the roster the previous season, coached his team to the highest win total in NBA history for a team that started 2-8 or worse and led the Wizards to a 17-game home winning streak (the second-longest in franchise history). With him on the sideline, Washington rallied from 17 double-digit deficits to win in 2016-17, the most in team history in the last 20 years. Brooks also made player development a priority, even among his best players: Wall appeared in his fourth straight All-Star game and averaged career highs in scoring, assists, field goal percentage and steals while Beal averaged career highs in scoring, assists, field goal percentage and games played and Porter Jr. averaged career highs in almost every statistical category.

Brooks is the 24th head coach in franchise history and brings a wealth of NBA coaching experience to the organization. Brooks was the head coach of the Oklahoma City Thunder from 2008-09 through 2014-15 where he amassed a 338-207 (.620) record, tallied four 50-plus win seasons (including 60 wins in 2012-13), made three appearances in the Western Conference Finals (2011, 2012, 2014) and advanced to the 2012 NBA Finals. He was named the Red Auerbach NBA Coach of the Year in 2010.

During his tenure with the Thunder, Brooks led Oklahoma City to five straight postseason appearances and four consecutive Northwest Division titles. From 2009-10 through 2014-15, he was the second-winningest active coach in the NBA, as the Thunder claimed 316 victories during this span.

Brooks guided the Thunder to a 45-win season during an injury-plagued 2014-15 campaign that saw Kevin Durant, Serge Ibaka and Russell Westbrook all miss extended stretches. After starting 3-12, the Thunder finished the season going 42-25 and in doing so, Oklahoma City became just the fourth team in NBA history to go from nine games below .500 at one point in the season, to nine games above .500 later in the season.

In the 2013-14 season, the Thunder finished with the second best record in the NBA at 59-23 and Oklahoma City became one of just two teams (San Antonio) to record a .610-or-better winning percentage (equivalent to 50 wins) in each of the five prior seasons. After posting the top record in the Western Conference through the first half of the 2013-14 season, Brooks represented the Thunder by coaching the 2014 Western Conference All-Stars in New Orleans. The All-Star coaching honor marked the second of Brooks' career (Brooks and his staff also coached the 2012 All-Star Game in Orlando).

During the 2012-13 season, the Thunder claimed the top spot in the Western Conference after finishing with a record of 60-22. On the year, Oklahoma City posted the largest point differential in the NBA in more than five seasons (9.2 points per game). Oklahoma City won 44 games by double figures, including 19 games of 20- or more (both tops in the NBA). The Thunder finished the season as the third highest scoring team in the NBA (105.7 points per game) while holding the opposition to the second worst field goal shooting percentage (.425).

At the end of the 2012-13 season, the Thunder became just the second team in NBA history to increase its winning percentage for five consecutive seasons (while maintaining a winning percentage of .700-or- better in two seasons).

During the 2011-12 season, Brooks guided the Thunder to a Western Conference championship and the NBA Finals after finishing the regular season with a record of 47-19. In the playoffs, the Thunder defeated Dallas, the Los Angeles Lakers and San Antonio before falling to the eventual champions Miami in five games.

In 2010-11 Brooks led the Thunder to 55 wins and a spot in the Western Conference Finals after Oklahoma City captured playoff series victories over the Denver Nuggets and Memphis Grizzlies. After the late-season acquisition of Kendrick Perkins from the Boston Celtics in mid-March, Brooks guided the Thunder to a 13-4 mark in the final 17 games of the regular season.

Brooks received the 2009-10 Red Auerbach NBA Coach of the Year award after his second season as head coach in Oklahoma City. During his first full year at the helm of the Thunder, Brooks oversaw one of the biggest turnarounds in NBA history. A year after winning 23 games, the Thunder concluded the 2009-10 season with a record of 50-32 (.610). The 27-win improvement was tied for the eighth largest in NBA history. Brooks was named interim head coach of the Thunder 13 games into the 2008-09 season and was later named head coach on April 15, 2009 prior to the team's final game of the season. A day after being awarded his first NBA head coaching position, Brooks led the Thunder to their most lopsided victory of the year in the team's season finale, a 126-85 win versus the Los Angeles Clippers at STAPLES Center.

Prior to his appointment as interim head coach on November 22, 2008 Brooks joined P.J. Carlisemo and the Thunder coaching staff at the start of the 2007-08 season. Before joining the Thunder (then Seattle Supersonics) organization as an assistant prior to the 2007-08 season, Brooks spent the 2006-07 season working as an assistant coach with the Sacramento Kings. His NBA coaching career began with the Denver Nuggets, where he served as an assistant coach from 2003-06. Brooks helped lead the Nuggets to the playoffs in each of his three seasons on the bench, with the team compiling a 136-110 (.560) regular season record.

Brooks played 10 seasons in the NBA, appearing in 680 regular season games with Philadelphia, Minnesota, Houston, Dallas, New York and Cleveland. He won an NBA championship in 1994 as a member of the Houston Rockets. The 5-11 guard retired with career averages of 4.9 points and 2.4 assists.

In 2000, Brooks was a player/assistant coach with the Los Angeles Stars of the ABA. The following season, he served as the head coach of the Southern California Surf of the ABA, guiding the club to a 23-14 record. A native of Lathrop, California, Brooks began his collegiate career at Texas Christian University, where he played one season. He then transferred to San Joaquin Delta College for his sophomore season, before spending his final two years at UC Irvine, where he averaged 23.8 points per game as a senior.

TONY BROWN

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Tony Brown enters his fifth season as the top assistant on Coach Brooks' bench. He joined the Wizards after two seasons with the Brooklyn Nets, including his role as interim head coach for the last part of the 2015-16 campaign. Brown took over as interim head coach on January 11 after Lionel Hollins was dismissed. With Brown at the helm, the Nets finished 11-34.

Prior to his time in Brooklyn, Brown spent the previous three seasons as an assistant coach with the Dallas Mavericks under Rick Carlisle. Brown has also served as an assistant coach with the Los Angeles Clippers (2009-10), Milwaukee Bucks (2007-08), Boston Celtics (2004-07), Toronto Raptors (2003-04), Detroit Pistons (2001-03) and Portland Trail Blazers (1997-2001). In addition to Carlisle (in Dallas and Detroit), Brown assisted Mike Dunleavy in Los Angeles and Portland, Larry Krystkowiak in Milwaukee, Doc Rivers in Boston and Kevin O'Neill in Toronto.

Before his stint as interim head coach in Brooklyn, Brown had filled in as a head coach in three games in his career, winning all three: once for Rivers in Boston (March 19, 2006), once for Krystkowiak in Milwaukee (November 6, 2007) and once for Dunleavy in Los Angeles (December 31, 2009). Prior to beginning his coaching career, he was an advance scout for the Bucks (1994-97).

Brown spent seven seasons (1984-90, 1991-92) as an NBA player with nine teams after being selected with the 82nd pick in the fourth round of the 1982 NBA Draft by the New Jersey Nets. His best professional season came in 1986-87 with the Nets, where he recorded career-bests for points, assists, steals, minutes and games started. In 360 career NBA games split between the Nets, Indiana Pacers, Chicago Bulls, Houston Rockets, Milwaukee Bucks, Los Angeles Lakers, Utah Jazz, Los Angeles Clippers and Seattle SuperSonics, Brown averaged 6.0 points and 2.1 rebounds per game. In addition to his seven seasons in the NBA, Brown also spent time in the Continental Basketball Association and Italy.

The Chicago native played four years at the University of Arkansas under head coach Eddie Sutton. Brown and his wife, Exquilynn, have a daughter, Myesha.

MIKE LONGABARDI

ASSISTANT COACH

Mike Longabardi begins his second season with the Wizards and brings championship pedigree to the coaching staff, having won titles in two of his previous stops as an assistant coach – one with the 2007-08 Celtics and, most recently, with the 2016-17 Cleveland Cavaliers. Longabardi comes to DC from the Cleveland, where he spent the past three seasons, serving as Larry Drew's top assistant last season.

Before joining the Cavs, Longabardi spent two-plus seasons as an assistant coach with the Phoenix Suns. He also served six seasons as an assistant coach with the Boston Celtics under Doc Rivers. While with the Celtics, he helped them reach three Eastern Conference Finals and two NBA Finals, including winning the 2008 NBA title. In addition to his time with the Celtics, Longabardi was an assistant coach/video coordinator for the Houston Rockets under Jeff Van Gundy.

He was previously the video coordinator for a season and the assistant video coordinator for a year in Houston. Longabardi also spent seven years as an assistant coach for the men's basketball teams at Pfeiffer University, Adelphi University, Lafayette College and Towson University.

ROBERT PACK

ASSISTANT COACH

Robert Pack enters his third season as an assistant coach with the Washington Wizards. Prior to coming to Washington, Pack was an assistant coach with the New Orleans Pelicans, his second stint with the organization. Prior to joining New Orleans, Pack served as an assistant coach with the Oklahoma City Thunder on Head Coach Scott Brooks' staff from 2013-15. Pack began his coaching career in New Orleans, serving as an assistant coach during the 2009-10 season before spending three seasons with the Los Angeles Clippers in a similar role.

After going undrafted out of the University of Southern California, Pack enjoyed a 13-year NBA playing career in which he averaged 8.9 points, 4.6 assists and 2.0 rebounds in 552 career games with the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Washington Bullets, New Jersey Nets, Dallas Mavericks, Minnesota Timberwolves and the New Orleans Hornets. Pack appeared in 31 games for the Bullets during the 1995-96 season and averaged 18.1 points, 7.8 assists and 4.3 rebounds per game.

Nicknamed "Pac-Man", Pack was a member of the 1991-92 Portland team that advanced to the NBA Finals and was a member of the 1993-94 Denver Nuggets' squad that made NBA history as the first No. 8 seed to defeat a No. 1 seed in the first round of the NBA Playoffs. Pack was the runner-up in the 1994 NBA All-Star Slam Dunk Contest in Minneapolis. Upon the conclusion of his NBA playing career, Pack played overseas in Lithuania and Spain from 2004-2006 before pursuing a career in coaching.

A native of New Orleans, Pack played collegiate basketball at the University of Southern California, finishing on the Trojans' all-time assists list (319) in just two seasons, while becoming the fourth player in school history to record back-to-back 100 assist seasons. In two years at Southern California, he averaged 13.4 points and 5.6 assists per game.

DAVID ADKINS

ASSISTANT COACH

David Adkins enters his eighth season with Washington and brings over 20 years of player development expertise to the Wizards. He is known as an elite developer of talent, helping to hone the skills of numerous NBA players. Adkins spent five years at the University of Maryland where he helped lead the women's basketball program to a 130-38 (.774) record, the 2014 Final Four, four top-four ACC finishes, four NCAA Tournament appearances, two Elite Eight finishes, three Sweet Sixteens and an ACC title.

The DMV native has had a successful career in the high school ranks working with some of the best players in the country. He coached at DeMatha Catholic, Montrose Christian, Herndon and Washington-Lee. He has helped more than 50 players earn college scholarships, including 41 Division I scholarships, in his 20+ years on the sidelines.

Adkins is a graduate of Radford University, where he played basketball and served as team captain his senior year. David resides in Ashburn, VA, with his wife, Janet, and two daughters, Ryland and Camryn.

JARELL CHRISTIAN

ASSISTANT COACH

Jarell Christian enters his third season with the Washington organization and his first as a Wizards assistant coach. Christian spent last season as the Go-Go's first head coach and led the team to a 25-25 record and a second place finish in the Southeast division. Before joining Capital City, he spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Oklahoma City Blue of the NBA G League. In his four seasons with the Blue, Christian helped lead the team to three playoff appearances, including a second-round appearance in the 2016-17 season. Christian served as the interim head coach for the team at the end of the 2016 season when head coach Mark Daigneault joined the Thunder's staff.

Christian attended Emory & Henry College in Emory, Virginia, where he played four seasons with the Wasps while earning a degree in sports management. Following his graduation, Christian spent one season at Tusculum College before returning to E&H as an assistant coach for the men's basketball team (as well as the head coach for both the men's and women's cross-country teams). After two seasons at E&H, Christian moved on to another assistant role at Randolph Macon College in Virginia, where he spent two seasons on current Bucknell Head Coach Nathan Davis' staff before moving on to the G League.

Christian is a native of New Kent, Virginia, where parents John and Joyce still reside. John is a member of the Virginia State University Sports Hall of Fame for track & field and was a participant in the 1980 USA Olympic Trials in Eugene, Oregon. Christian's brother, Jamion, is the current Men's Basketball Head Coach at Siena College. Christian and his wife, Elizabeth, have two boys, Jayden and Luca.

DEAN OLIVER

ASSISTANT COACH FOR ANALYTICS

Dean Oliver enters his second season with the Wizards as an assistant coach, with a focus on analytics. Oliver last worked in the NBA as the Sacramento Kings' director of analytics/player personnel in 2015. He is widely known as a pioneer in analytics from the NBA down to high school. His book, Basketball on Paper, was written at the same time as Moneyball and helped him enter the NBA in 2004, working for the then-Seattle SuperSonics. He soon joined the Denver Nuggets as director of quantitative Analysis and was part of several very successful teams. He also helped Nuggets VP Mark Warkentien win Executive of the Year in 2008-09. Oliver went to ESPN during the NBA lockout of the 2011 season, where he headed up the construction of their sports analytics group, working on both basketball and football with talent, producers, technology, and executives at the company.

He earned a bachelor's degree in engineering at Cal Tech while playing on the basketball team. Oliver did his Ph.D. in environmental engineering at North Carolina and Stanford while serving as an advance scout in college basketball.

COREY GAINES

ASSISTANT COACH

Corey Gaines enters his second season with the Wizards. Gaines spent the 2017-18 as an assists with the New York Knicks. Before joining the Knicks, he spent six years on the staff of the Phoenix Suns. After five years (2010-15) as the Suns' player development coach, he was promoted to assistant coach in 2015-16. Gaines also served eight seasons (2006-13) with the WNBA's Phoenix Mercury and helped lead the team to two WNBA Championships. After two years (2006-07) as an assistant coach, Gaines compiled a 90-101 (.471) mark as Mercury head coach from 2008-13. An assistant coach on the 2007 WNBA championship team, he helmed the Mercury to the 2009 league title with a 23-11 mark. The winningest head coach in Mercury franchise history (90), Gaines served in the dual role of Mercury head coach/general manager for two seasons (2012-13). Gaines' coaching career began in 2003 with the Long Beach Jam of the ABA, as both a player-coach and assistant coach under Paul Westhead. Drafted by Seattle in the third round (65th overall) of the 1988 NBA Draft, Gaines played five NBA seasons with four teams (Nets, 76ers, Nuggets, Knicks).

MIKE TERPSTRA

ASSISTANT COACH

Mike Terpstra enters his fifth season on the bench in Washington. He spent the 2015-16 season with the men's basketball program at Boise State after serving two seasons as an assistant coach with the Thunder (2013-2015). Terpstra brings over 20 years of experience to Washington after working in various capacities at the college, junior college and high school levels, with additional experience in the NBA Development League and the CBA.

Terpstra's experience in the CBA came as an assistant coach/director of player development under former NBA veteran Joe Wolf with the Idaho Stampede during the 2005-06 season. The following season, Terpstra worked on a part-time basis with the coaching staff of the Colorado 14ers who would go on to win the Western Division championship before falling to the Dakota Wizards in the D-League championship.

Prior to his time with the Stampede and 14ers, Terpstra served as head coach at his alma mater, Northwest Nazarene University, in Nampa, ID, during the 2004-05 season. While there, Terpstra accumulated a 17-10 record, which was the best record in school history at the Division II level. Terpstra also served as the head coach of California State Stanislaus from 2000-03, where he led the Warriors to a 41-39 record over his three year stint in Turlock. During a three-year stint as the head coach of Modesto Junior College from 1997-00, Terpstra compiled a 60-36 record, including a school record 27 wins during the 1999-00 season.

Terpstra served as an assistant coach at Pacific University during the 1994-95 season. He started his coaching career with Ripon Christian High School, where he won three California state championships, including two as a head coach (1992, 1994) and one as an assistant (1988).

Following his college playing career at Northwest Nazarene, Terpstra played professionally in Turkey and England.

ERIC SEBASTIAN

DIRECTOR OF COACHING OPERATIONS

Eric Sebastian enters his 20th NBA season and fifth with Washington as director of coaching operations. Prior to joining Washington, he spent seven seasons as the director of basketball operations at the University of Memphis, where he helped the Tigers make four NCAA Tournaments and develop five future NBA players. He assisted Head Coach Josh Pastner with all aspects of the program, including on-campus recruiting, statistical analysis, game scheduling, team travel, practice facility upgrades and in-game management.

Sebastian began his career with the Denver Nuggets where he worked 15 seasons (1994-2009), the last six as director of media relations. The team made the playoffs in each of his last six years, including an appearance in the 2009 Western Conference Finals. He worked closely with Scott Brooks, George Karl, Mike D'Antoni, Mike Brown, and Doug Moe - all of whom earned NBA Coach of the Year honors in their careers. He assisted the league office at the 2008 NBA Finals and several NBA All-Star Games, while also serving as a member of the NBA's PR Advisory Board. In addition to his PR duties, he compiled statistical data and NBA personnel reports, provided information for the NBA Draft, assisted with free agent recruiting and communicated daily roster moves with the league office.

After xearning his bachelor's degree from Southern Methodist University in 1994, Sebastian served internships with the World Cup Organizing Committee and the Dallas Cowboys. He completed his master's degree at Memphis in 2013.

He and his wife, Natalie, are the proud parents of sons Kade and Braxton.

ROD THORN

SENIOR ADVISOR TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Rod Thorn begins his second season as senior advisor to the general manager and brings over 40 years of front office experience. In this role, Thorn consults with Wizards General Manager Tommy Sheppard on decisions, including personnel, free agency and the draft. The former Baltimore Bullet was originally drafted by the franchise with the second overall pick in 1963 NBA Draft and enjoyed a nine-year playing career.

An NBA veteran of more than four decades, Thorn was named the president of the Philadelphia 76ers on August 12, 2010. He spent the past 10 seasons as president of the New Jersey Nets before resigning on July 15, 2010.

Thorn, the 2001-02 NBA Executive of the Year, joined the Nets on June 27, 2000. During his tenure in East Rutherford, the Nets captured four Atlantic Division titles in a five-season span, including back-to-back Eastern Conference Championships in 2002 and 2003.

Back in June of 2001, Thorn engineered two major deals which helped catapult New Jersey into the league's upper echelon. He traded the rights to Eddie Griffin, the seventh overall pick in the 2001 NBA Draft to the Houston Rockets in exchange for their three first round picks from that same draft, Richard Jefferson, Jason Collins and Brandon Armstrong. The next day, Thorn negotiated a blockbuster six-player trade with Phoenix that landed New Jersey three-time First Team All-NBA guard Jason Kidd in exchange for Stephon Marbury.

Prior to joining the Nets, Thorn spent 14 years working for the NBA league office in Manhattan, where he was the NBA's executive vice president of basketball operations. At the league office, Thorn oversaw all on-court operations, including officiating, game conduct and discipline.

Thorn also served as chair of the Senior Men's Basketball Committee for USA Basketball from 1992 through 2000. He was also a member of the select NBA Rules Committee which formed in March of 2001 and was chaired by Jerry Colangelo, CEO of the Phoenix Suns. That committee advised the NBA's Board of Governors on changes in the league's playing rules including the elimination of illegal defense guidelines, the institution of a new defensive three-second rule, eight seconds instead of 10 to advance the ball past midcourt and the elimination of incidental contact if it does not impede the progress of the player with the ball.

In 1978, Thorn began a seven-year stint as general manager of the Chicago Bulls, which included drafting Michael Jordan in 1984. During his tenure with Chicago, Thorn was also the interim head coach for 30 games in 1982.

Thorn was the second overall pick in the 1963 NBA Draft by the Baltimore Bullets. After one season in Baltimore, he spent a season and a half in both Detroit and St. Louis before finishing his career in Seattle. In 466 career games played, Thorn averaged 10.8 points, 3.1 rebounds and 2.6 assists.

Following the conclusion of his NBA playing career in 1970-71, Thorn joined Lenny Wilkens' coaching staff in Seattle. In 1973-74, he was an assistant coach for the ABA Nets and helped lead Julius Erving and company to their first-ever ABA Championship. Two years later, he became head coach of the ABA's Spirits of St. Louis. In 1976, Thorn was named an assistant coach with the Nets when they moved into the NBA.

A graduate of the University of Washington with a B.A. in political science, Thorn also holds an honorary degree from West Virginia University and served on the school's Board of Directors for five years. Thorn was an All-American guard at West Virginia, following in the footsteps of Jerry West and Rod Hundley.

Thorn and his wife, Peggy, have a son, Jonathan, and twin daughters, Amanda and Jessica.

BRETT GREENBERG

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/STRATEGY & ANALYTICS

Brett Greenberg is in his 12th season with the Wizards and his second in his role as assistant GM/strategy and analytics. Greenberg most recently completed his fourth as vice president of basketball analytics/salary cap Management. In his role, Greenberg leads the Wizards' analytical efforts while assisting with all salary cap and Collective Bargaining Agreement matters.

Prior to his promotion, Greenberg served as basketball operations assistant/video coordinator for the team for two seasons, where he played a vital role in the coaching staff's preparation by providing video breakdowns of opposing teams and individual players as well as video analysis of the individual strengths and weaknesses of Wizards players. He served as basketball operations assistant/technology during his first two seasons with the organization.

Greenberg came to Washington after spending the 2008-09 season in the basketball operations department for the Miami Heat as a video intern. Prior to working for the Heat, he served as a student manager and assistant video coordinator for four years for the Duke men's basketball team from 2004-08. Greenberg graduated from Duke University in 2008 with a degree in Sociology.

A native of Owings Mills, Maryland, Greenberg graduated from McDonogh School in 2004. While in high school, he worked for the men's basketball team at Stevenson University (formerly Villa Julie College) for two seasons.

FRANK ROSS

VICE PRESIDENT OF COLLEGE PERSONNEL

Frank Ross enters his eighth season with the Wizards and his fourth as vice president of college personnel. He spent his first two seasons with the team as Director of Player Personnel.

The Washington, D.C. native served six seasons as director of east coast scouting for the Oklahoma City Thunder. In that role, Ross was an integral part in evaluating college and international player talent, providing projections and recommendations on draft selections.

Prior to joining the Thunder organization, Ross served as a scout with the Charlotte Bobcats from 2003-07, evaluating college and minor league player talent. While with the Bobcats, he was also a part of an NBA delegation that conducted the Basketball Without Borders program in South Africa for two summers. Ross joined the Bobcats after two seasons as the lead assistant coach with the University at Albany (NY).

Prior to joining the collegiate coaching ranks, Ross was a five-year veteran of the Arlington County Police Department in Northern Virginia. His areas of responsibility included drug enforcement as well as youth and drug counseling. In 1993, Ross received the Meritorious Service Award for extraordinary humanitarian effort.

A fifth-round draft choice (108th pick) by the Philadelphia 76ers in the 1987 NBA Draft, Ross also participated in free agent camp for the Washington Bullets prior to the 1988 NBA season and played professionally in the Continental Basketball Association with the Sioux Falls Skyforce and in Germany with TTL Bamberg.

Ross attended American University in Washington D.C., where he was a two-time All-Colonial Athletic Association selection and continues to rank in the top-10 in 12 statistical categories, including fourth all-time in career scoring with 1,921 points. Ross was inducted into American University's Hall of Fame in 2007. Ross, an avid cyclist and recreational golfer, resides in Greensboro, North Carolina, with his wife Lindsey and two sons, Jalen and Jaxon.

JOHNNY ROGERS

VICE PRESIDENT OF PRO PERSONNEL

Johnny Rogers enters his second season with Washington after spending three seasons as vice president of pro personnel for the Los Angeles Clippers. In this new role, Rogers will oversee NBA and G League scouting as well as the team's international scouting efforts. Prior to joining the Clippers, Rogers served as a scout for the Oklahoma City Thunder and a television analyst for EuroLeague games.

A native of Fullerton, California, Rogers played collegiately at Stanford where he was named PAC-10 Freshman of the Year in 1982, before transferring to UC Irvine. Rogers was drafted 34th overall in the 1986 drafted by the Sacramento Kings. He spent most of his 18-year playing career in Europe, where he became a two-time EuroLeague champion with Panathinaikos in 2000 and 2002.

ANTAWN JAMISON

DIRECTOR OF PRO PERSONNEL

Antawn Jamison begins his second season in the Wizards' front office as director of player personnel. Prior to his return to Washington, Jamison spent two seasons as a scout for the Los Angeles Lakers. He works with vice president of pro personnel Johnny Rogers on the organization's NBA and G League scouting.

Jamison played for the Wizards for six seasons (2004-10), posting averages of 20.8 points and 8.9 rebounds and earning two All-Star selections with Washington. The 17-year NBA pro averaged 18.5 points and 7.5 rebounds in 1,083 career games (864 starts) with Golden State, Dallas, Washington, Cleveland, the Los Angeles Lakers and Los Angeles Clippers.

Jamison played collegiately at the University of North Carolina where he won the Wooden and Naismith Awards as the most outstanding college basketball player as a junior during the 1997-98 season. He was originally selected fourth overall by the Toronto Raptors in the 1998 NBA Draft.

TONY DILEO

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE PERSONNEL

Tony DiLeo enters his seventh season with the Wizards, his third as director of college personnel. He spent the previous three seasons as a scout, a position he held since joining the team in 2013.

DiLeo brings more than a quarter-century of front office and coaching experience to the Wizards' front office staff. Prior to joining Washington, DiLeo spent 23 years with the Philadelphia 76ers, working in various roles. In 2012, he was promoted to General Manager from his former position of senior vice president of Basketball Operations, a position he held since September of 2003. From 1999 to 2003, he served as the team's director of player personnel.

During the 2008-09 season, DiLeo stepped in as the Sixers' head coach following their 9-14 start and guided the team to a 32-27 mark for the remainder of the season while qualifying for a playoff berth.

Prior to joining Philadelphia, DiLeo built his extensive international experience through 10 years of playing and coaching in West Germany. He coached both men's and women's teams during that span, winning nine nationals titles in the country's top division. DiLeo also served as the West German Federation National Coach from 1981 though 1985 and was named the country's coach of the year in 1987.

In 1984, DiLeo wrote and published the European Basketball Handbook, a guide designed to help acclimate Americans playing overseas. He also has written a manual on rule differences among international basketball, the NBA and the NCAA.

A star at Cinnaminson (N.J.) High School, DiLeo went on to play at LaSalle University. As a junior at LaSalle, he was a first team Academic All-American and graduated maxima cum laude from the School of Business. He and his wife, Anna, have two sons, T.J. and Max.

MEDICAL STAFF

DR. MICHAEL ASHTON

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER HEALTH

Dr. Michael Ashton, a dual-credentialed clinician, joins the Monumental Basketball Athlete Care and Performance group as director of player health. He will play a leading and pivotal role in the provision of medical care, integrative rehabilitation services and injury reduction strategies. In addition, he will perform the functions of a head athletic trainer and will provide technical leadership to the athletic trainers across the Monumental basketball platform.

After 10 years working as a physical therapist in orthopedic and sports settings, Ashton joined the Oklahoma City Thunder organization as a physical therapist and athletic trainer, serving in a dual role for the G League's Oklahoma City Blue before transitioning to the Thunder full time in 2018.

Ashton obtained a doctor of physical therapy degree from Hampton University and completed a postdoctorate residency and fellowship in manual therapy with the Ola Grimsby Institute for two years. In addition, he holds a bachelor of science degree in athletic training from High Point University. He is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist, board-certified clinician in orthopedic and sports physical therapy, fellow of the American Academy of Orthopedic Manual Physical Therapists and registered international sports physical therapist.

A West Virginia native, Ashton and his spouse, Jocelyn, have two daughters, Sariah and Amari.

JESSE PHILLIPS

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER REHABILITATION AND THERAPY

Jesse Phillips begins fourth season with the Wizards and his first as the team's director of player rehabilitation and therapy. Phillips spent his first three seasons as the Wizards' senior physical therapist. He joins the Wizards after spending the previous two-plus years as a physical therapist at Providence Saint John's Health Center's Performance Therapy, where he served as Sports Rehabilitation Supervisor.

Phillips earned his doctor of physical therapy degree and graduated from the Sports Physical Therapy residency at the University of Southern California. During his residency, he worked with athletes from Crenshaw High School, West Los Angeles College and the Los Angeles Sparks. Phillips was selected for a prestigious internship and subsequent position with EXOS (integrated performance training, nutrition and physical therapy center for elite and professional athletes) at the Andrews Institute in Gulf Breeze, FL with NFL and college football players, and elite military personnel.

Phillips and his wife, Elizabeth, reside in Arlington, VA. His hobbies include reading, traveling, running, hiking, weight lifting, and playing sports.

DR. MICHAEL J. DAVIS

DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL AND PERFORMANCE THERAPY

Dr. Michael Davis will join the Monumental Basketball Athlete Care and Performance group as director of physical and performance therapy. He will add his experience in the prevention, clinical management, and return to play strategies for the Wizards, while also providing technical leadership across the Monumental basketball platform.

With over 17 years of experience working as a physical therapist in neurological, orthopedic, circulatory, and sports settings (working with athletes from the NBA, NFL, NHL, MLS, and combat sports), Davis comes to the organization most recently from the Oklahoma City Thunder. He joined the Thunder organization as a performance physical therapist in 2015, working with the team for the past five seasons.

The Virginia native obtained his doctorate of physical therapy degree from Temple University, holds a bachelor of science degree in exercise science from Virginia Commonwealth University and is certified in dynamic neuromuscular stabilization among many other disciplines. Davis and his spouse, Cece, have a daughter, Halo, and a son, Honor.

ADAM PETWAY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETIC PERFORMANCE

Adam Petway serves the Monumental Basketball Athlete Care and Performance group as the director of athletic performance. He is responsible for leading the delivery of evidence-based strength and conditioning programs for the Wizards and will work very closely with other members of the Athlete Care and Performance group in the execution of player injury prevention and recovery programs. Petway will also provide technical leadership to the strenthg and conditioning coaches across the Monumental Platform.

With over 10 years of experience in strength and conditioning and sport science, Petway comes to the organization from the Philadelphia 76ers, where he spent the last two season as the team's lead biomechanist and strength coach. He began his career in the DMV area with strength and conditioning roles at The Catholic Universiy of America, The George Washington University, and the University of Maryland before working as director of strength and conditioning for men's basketball at the University of Arkansas.

Petway earned a bachelor of science degree in sports science from the United Sports Academy and is close to completing a doctorate in high performance sport focusing on researching the physical demands of top-tier men's basketball. In addition, he holds a master of business administration degree (with emphasis in sport management) and is a certified strength and conditioning specialist, a member of the European College of Sports Science, and a level II performance specialist and sport nutrition specialist with the International Sport Science Association. He and his wife, Collen, have a daughter, Emilia.

SASHI BROWN

CHIEF PLANNING & OPERATIONS OFFICER

Sashi Brown enters his second year as Monumental Basketball's chief planning and operations officer. A graduate of Harvard Law and Hampton University, Brown is a seasoned NFL executive who has served within both football and business operations.

In 2016, Brown was promoted to executive vice president of football operations for the Cleveland Browns, where he was responsible for developing the organization's short and long-term visions and strategies in collaboration with the ownership group. He also oversaw Cleveland's scouting functions and management of the roster and salary cap.

Brown was originally hired by Cleveland in 2013 as executive vice president and general counsel, where he served the franchise in both football and business capacities. He was responsible for overseeing the roster and salary cap while also directing the team's football administration functions, including negotiation of players contracts. On the business side, his duties included insurance and risk management, licensing and intellectual property issues and litigation management.

Brown started his career as an attorney at Wilmer, Cutler, Pickering, Hale and Dorr in Washington, DC, where he represented clients in a variety of transactions including venture capital and private equity deals as well as mergers and acquisitions. He joined the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2005 where he served as senior vice president and general counsel, working on both the football and business side of the franchise's operations.

DANIEL MEDINA

CHIEF OF ATHLETE CARE & PERFORMANCE

Daniel Medina enters his second season in Washington as the team's chief of athlete care and performance, having spent the last two seasons as the vice president of athlete care for the Philadelphia 76ers. In his role with the 76ers, Dr. Medina oversaw all areas of athlete care and performance, including the medical and sports science departments, as well as the athletic training, physiotherapy, nutrition and strength and conditioning departments.

Prior to Philadelphia, Dr. Medina spent over a decade with Fútbol Club Barcelona. Dr. Medina finished his tenure with the team as deputy director of the sports science and medical department, where he managed 2,000 athletes and more than 125 athlete care and performance staff members.

Dr. Medina served as team physician for FC Barcelona from 2008-2015 and first joined its medical services department in 2005. He also served as a driving force behind FC Barcelona's award-winning Barca Innovation Hub. Dr. Medina was heavily involved in Barca Innovation Hub's evaluation and research of emerging products, particularly those designed to aid in athlete health and performance.

Dr. Medina boasts an extensive résumé in athlete care and sports performance. In addition to earning a PhD from the University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria Medical School in Spain, Dr. Medina holds master's degrees from the University of Barcelona (Evaluative Medicine) and University Pablo Olavide (Fútbol Conditioning and Rehab). He also graduated from the International Olympic Committee's sports nutrition program and participated in continuing health care education programs at Harvard Business School.

MARK SIMPSON

VICE PRESIDENT OF PLAYER PERFORMANCE

Mark Simpson enters his second season in Washington, as Vice President of Player Performance. Before joing Monumental Basketball, Simpson spent three seasons as director of performance for the Los Angeles Clippers. In Los Angeles, Simpson oversaw the team's player load management strategies, including the production of individualized off-season, pre-season, and in-season load-management plans that incorporated game minute management, practice and workout recommendations. Prior to working for the Clippers, Simpson spent five seasons as the director of performance science with the Oklahoma City Thunder.

Before coming to the NBA, Simpson held positions in Olympic and professional sports in England, including posts as head of strength and conditioning for the Great Britain Cycling Team and head of strength and conditioning for the English Institute of Sport.

A native of West Yorkshire, England, Simpson holds a master's and a bachelor's degree in sport science from Loughborough University in England.

JOHN THOMPSON III

VICE PRESIDENT OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT & ENGAGEMENT

John Thompson III enters his second season as Monumental Basketball's vice president of player development and engagement. Thompson brings a vast array of experience to DC, including 13 years (2004-2017) as head coach at iconic Georgetown University.

Thompson arrived at Georgetown with a unique pedigree as the son of one Hall of Fame coach and the student of another, having played basketball for the legendary coach Pete Carril as an undergraduate at Princeton University. He achieved several coaching milestones, including an NCAA Final Four appearance, two NCAA Sweet-16 appearances, three Big East regular season championships and one Big East tournament championship. In his four years as head coach at Princeton, Thompson won three Ivy League championships. Overall, he owns a stellar 346-193 (.641) all-time record and was named Big East Coach of the Year (2013), NABC Coach of the Year (2007) and was a two-time recipient of the Black Coaches Association (BCA) Male Coach of the Year.

Following his tenure at Georgetown, Thompson continued his path as a stalwart in basketball, serving as an analyst for ESPN and an assistant coach for the USA Men's National Team (where he assisted head coach Jeff Van Gundy as the team qualified for the 2019 FIBA World Cup). He also served on the Commission on College Basketball (established by the NCAA Board of Governors, Division I Board of Directors and the NCAA president and chaired by former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice to fully examine critical aspects of Division I men's basketball) and was the recipient of the 2019 Guardians of the Game Award for Service, presented by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

Off the court, Thompson has been an active member of his community. His greatest contribution was establishing the John Thompson III Foundation in 2007 to create a positive and lasting impact on the city he cherishes, Washington, DC. He currently he serves on the boards of his alma mater, Gonzaga College High School, the NABC and the non-profit, Men Against Breast Cancer.

SASHIA JONES

VICE PRESIDENT OF PLAYER ENGAGEMENT

Entering her 19th season in the Washington Wizards organization, Sashia Jones has established the organization as a pillar of philanthropy in the DC metropolitan community.

Previously serving as vice president of community relations, the team has established signature events such as Salute to the Stars, Family to Family, the Special Olympics Unified game and the Thanksgiving Day Assist which have all been recognized as best practices in the NBA.

Jones has also implemented programs and initiatives for Wizards All-Stars John Wall and Bradley Beal that have led to each winning the NBA's Community Assist Season-long award. This award is given to an NBA player who best reflects the passion that the league and its players share for giving back to their communities. In addition to established community events, Jones has partnered the organization with numerous social and charitable organizations throughout the DC metropolitan area, including Make-a-Wish which helps fulfill the wishes of children experiencing health challenges, and Bright Beginnings Inc., which assists children experiencing homelessness with opportunities to receive educational assistance and special experiences during every holiday season.

A native of Silver Spring, Maryland, Jones earned her bachelor's degree in journalism from Bowie State University.

KEVIN CULLEN

SENIOR DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS AND TECHNOLOGY

Kevin Cullen enters his second season in Washington after spending the past decade as Duke men's basketball director of information technology. After graduating from Duke in 2007, Cullen returned to the Blue Devils in 2008 as the program's video coordinator. Following his promotion in 2013, to director of information technology, Cullen oversaw all aspects of the team's video needs, including opponent scouting, film exchange, managing the video room and supplying the coaching staff with game film. Cullen also served in a similar capacity with USA Basketball from 2008-16.

A Durham, N.C., native, Cullen earned his bachelor's degree in computer science from Duke University and his masters in business administration from Duke's Fuqua School of Business.

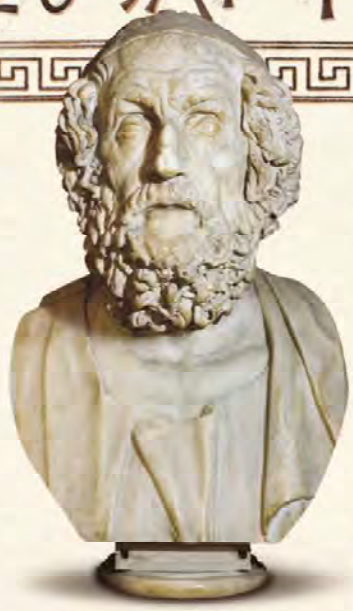
WHY SOME PEOPLE SAY "D'OH" WHEN YOU SAY "HOMER".



Homer was a man of philosophy, not all-you-can-eat buffets.

KIDS DON'T GET ENOUGH ART THESE DAYS. Not in their schools. Not in their communities. Which is why the only Homer some kids know is the one who can't write his own last name. The original Homer created epic poetry. Homer was a storyteller. A philosopher. And he's credited with writing the most important literary texts in Greek history. Just a thought: Maybe your kid should get to know him.

Greek gods. Achilles heel. Trojan horse. All of these icons are brought to us by one very ancient dude — Homer. In The Iliad and in its sequel, The Odyssey, he presented Greek mythology in everyday language. In over 25,000 lines of lilting verse, Homer describes bravery, violence and lust in ancient Greece.

Composing The Iliad didn't require an atomic reaction, but it did require art.

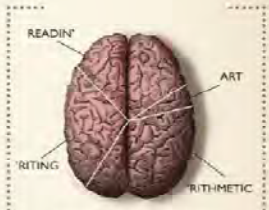
These Homeric works don't just weave a tale of Greek and Trojan warfare; they are considered by the Greeks to be the highest cultural achievements of their people — the defining moment in their society. The Iliad and The Odyssey set Greek character in stone.

If these classic texts can get passed down all the way from the eighth century B.C., then surely we can pass them down to our kids today. Make sure your kids get their daily dose of art. Take them to a museum or the opera. The experience will for sure do more than entertain them. It'll build their capacity to learn more. In fact, the more art kids get, the smarter they become in subjects like math and science. And that's enough reason to make a parent say, "D'oh!" For Ten Simple Ways to instill more art in your kids' lives, visit AmericansForTheArts.org.



Give your kids a chance to succeed. Up their daily dose of art.

ART. ASK FOR MORE.

ChildFund®

As we social distance, COVID-19 pushes us apart.

As we help children around the world, we pull together.

The pandemic shows how connected we all are, how the quality of life anywhere affects everyone's health and well-being, everywhere.

Children in the world's poorest places face the gravest risks – not just from COVID-19, but also from its ripple effects, especially hunger. Because when parents can't work, children can't eat. We've never seen a crisis like this.

But ChildFund is helping millions of children across Africa, Asia and the Americas stay connected to what they need to grow up healthy, educated and safe. In the biggest emergency response of ChildFund's 80-year history, we and caring people everywhere are pulling together to make sure that children not only survive the pandemic but thrive beyond it.

IN MEMORY OF WES UNSELD:

FRANCHISE LEGEND, COMMUNITY TITAN

Hall of Famer Wes Unseld spent his entire 13-year career as a center for the Baltimore/Washington Bullets and following retirement coached the Bullets from 1987 until 1994. Unseld is the most accomplished player in the history of the Bullets/Wizards franchise and was well-respected across the league. In 1969, Unseld became the second player in NBA history (joining Wilt Chamberlain) to earn MVP and Rookie of the Year honors in the same season. Unseld led the Bullets to their first NBA championship in 1978 and was named the Finals MVP. The five-time All-Star leaves a decorated legacy, including induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, that transformed the basketball community.

Unseld was drafted from the University of Louisville as the second overall pick by the Bullets in 1968 and played in Baltimore and in Washington D.C. with the team until his retirement in 1981. For 12 consecutive years beginning with his rookie season, Unseld led the Bullets to the playoffs, including four NBA Final appearances. Unseld played 984 games, for 35,832 minutes and hauled in 13,769 total rebounds with the Bullets, all of which top the franchise record book. Unseld retired as the NBA's seventh all-time leading rebounder. After his dynamic playing career came to an end, Unseld held positions with the team as head coach, general manager, broadcaster, and other executive front office roles for 23 years.

Standing at 6-foot-7, Unseld was notorious for his remarkable, physical force on the court and was seen as one of the toughest centers in the league. The Bullets/Wizards retired Unseld's number 41 jersey in 1981 and he was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1988. In 1996, Unseld was named one of the 50 greatest NBA players of all time during the league's 50th anniversary celebration.

Unseld was also a pillar in the community and was extremely devoted to providing his time and resources in Baltimore. In 1987, Unseld and his wife Connie Martin founded the Unselds' School, a private pre-kindergarten through eighth grade school in southwest Baltimore where his daughter Kimberly taught and his son Wes Unseld Jr. attended.

Unseld passed away on June 2, 2020 at 72.

Husband. Father. Teammate. Champion.

Wes Unseld's legacy lives on.

WIZARDS VIRTUAL GAMEDAY

The Wizards and Kiswee, a global technology powering the new digital fan experience, launched Wizards Virtual Gameday, presented by NBC Sports Washington at the start of the 20-21 season. Virtual Gameday is a second screen virtual option for an enhanced viewing experience on fans' mobile and other electronic devices. Virtual Gameday allowed the Wizards to bring in-venue experiences to our fans during all home games. Along with access to the traditional in-game elements which fans have a deep association with and affinity for such as Wizards dancers, DJ Heat, in-arena hosts, national anthem performances, halftime entertainment, player warmer ups and player introductions – Virtual Gameday also provided a powerful platform to allow fans to chat with each other and record videos of their fan reactions.

WIZARDS BOOK OF THE MONTH

The Wizards Book of the Month presented by Pepsi Stronger Together is a program dedicated to reading outside of the classroom. In partnership with DC Public Library, Prince George's County Memorial Library System and Alexandria Library, the Wizards highlighted books for children in various age groups to read. Each month, the library systems featured one book for three different reading levels: K-2, 3-5 and 6-8. Children were encouraged to read alone or with friends and family.

WIZARDS LABORATORY

Wizards Laboratory is a hub for fun and exciting activities that promotes children learning about science. The Wizards partnered with Mad Science of Washington D.C. to showcase mini video episodes each month about science and how it relates to basketball. Our lab is a place to discover, explore and learn about all of the interesting ways that science and basketball mix. Basketball is an athletic and high-energy sport that involves a lot of physical activity with a wide range of factors that relate to science.

12 DAYS OF GIVING

The Wizards, Capitals and Mystics celebrated the 2020 holiday season with a 12 Days of Giving Sweepstakes presented by Capital One. Beginning on December 8th, the three teams held drawings on 12 days where fans could enter for a chance to win a prize. Over 72 prizes were awarded to fans in the Wizards community.

WIZARDS WINTER READING CHALLENGE

The Wizards launched their first-ever Winter Reading Challenge dedicated to early readers, kids and teens in partnership with DC Public Library, Prince George's County Memorial Library System and Alexandria Library. The 3-month challenge aimed to build positive reading culture and promote literacy for youth across the entire Washington Metropolitan area. Readers could earn badges by tracking their reading minutes, joining interactive virtual events, connecting with their library community and participating in physical activity. The readers who completed the challenge where eligible for a variety of prizes including Wizards jerseys, bobbleheads and more.

BLACK-OWNED DMV

The Wizards Black-Owned DMV video series highlights the local Black-owned businesses across the Washington Metropolitan area. Launched in February 2021 during Black History Month, the Wizards integrated six local Black-owned businesses into our game day presentation by sharing interviews dedicated to each businesses' story across Virtual Gameday, Wizards social media and NBC Sports Washington. The Wizards also held other activations such as the Black Business Experience two-part video series presented by Hennessy and the Clorox Community Assist in partnership with Clorox to further showcase the immense legacy that Black-owned businesses have had and will continue to have.

BEAT OF THE CAPITAL

The Wizards celebrated the legacy of Black music in DC with Beat of the Capital throughout Black History Month. Through the five-episode series, fans heard from music artists and industry professionals as they discussed the different music genres influenced by Black culture. The genres Go-Go, Hip-Hop, R&B/Soul, Jazz, and Gospel were highlighted to showcase the historic role Black creators from the Washington D.C. area played in shaping the global music industry.

CRUCIAL CONVERSATIONS

In partnership with Pepsi Stronger Together, Crucial Conversations is a virtual roundtable discussion exploring multiple themes within minorities, youth and athletes. Crucial Conversations, hosted by Meghan McPeak, tackled relevant topics for local high school and college students such as the importance of voting, racial injustice, post-high school education options, and mentorships.

NIKE GAME GROWERS

Nike Game Growers is an exclusive opportunity for 7th and 8th grade girls to share their ideas on how to encourage more girls to play sports. Two girls are selected by each participating NBA or WNBA team to develop ideas that could grow participation for girls in sports. The Wizards selected local students Jayel and Keyarah for their 2021 Nike Game Growers

REFURBISHED BASKETBALL COURT

Through the Wizards partnership with Pepsi Stronger Together, the two teamed up with local artist No Kings Collective to refurbish a basketball court at the Randal Recreation Center in Southwest D.C.

ISRAEL DIGITAL PLATFORMS

The Wizards expanded their footprint in Israel by launching the NBA's first-ever Israeli social media account and Wizraeli Podcast. The Wizards now have multiple social media accounts dedicated to their global fans, including their Japanese accounts launched during the 2019-20 season. These platforms provide exclusive content featuring Wizards players Deni Avdija and Rui Hachimura to connect with Wizards fans written in Hebrew or Japanese.

CAPITAL ONE ARENA is a 20,000-seat multi-purpose sports and entertainment venue, owned and operated by Monumental Sports & Entertainment, in the Penn Quarter neighborhood of Chinatown in downtown Washington, D.C. The arena is home to the NBA's Washington Wizards, the NHL's Washington Capitals, the WNBA's Washington Mystics, AFL's Washington Valor and the NCAA's Georgetown Hoyas men's basketball team.

Boasting an average of 220 events per year, Captial One Arean is the heart of an $8.5 billion redevelopment that began 17 years ago when the arena was built and opened on Dec. 2, 1997. Since then the privately financed arena has hosted 43.6 million people and more than 3,631 events.

The surrounding neighborhood throughout the years has been rejuvenated by a plethora of restaurants, condominiums and businesses, making the Seventh Street corridor an entertainment destination.

In June 2010, Ted Leonsis became the majority owner of Capital One Arena and formed Monumental Sports & Entertainment (MSE). MSE includes ownership of the NBA's Washington Wizards, the NHL's Washington Capitals, AFL's Washington Mystics and Baltimore Brigade, the WNBA's Washington Mystics and Verizon Center. Monumental Sports & Entertainment also manages Kettler Capitals Iceplex, the training facility for the Washington Capitals, and EagleBank Arena at George Mason University. In January 2013, MSE launched Monumental Network, a digital platform that serves as the hub for the region's sports and entertainment news.

As an arena in the heart of downtown Washington, D.C., Capital One Arena has hosted a multitude of high-profile events in its history, ranging from the 1998 Stanley Cup Final to the NBA (2001) and WNBA (2002, 2007) All-Star games to the 2003 World Figure Skating Championship, the 2005 ACC Tournament, the first and second rounds of the NCAA Division I men's basketball tournament (1998, 2002, 2008) as well as the second and third rounds (2011), the East Regional Round (2006, 2013) and the 2009 NCAA Frozen Four men's hockey championship. In 2016 the arena will host the ACC Tournament for the second time. In 2017 the arena will host the Big Ten Tournament for the first time and in 2018 the A10 Tournament for the first time.

Entertainment at the arena would not be complete without concerts and family shows ranging from all-time greats to current-day chart-topping artists. In the almost 18 year history of the arena some of the artists who have roamed the halls and mastered the stage at Verizon Center include: U2, Lady Gaga, Madonna, Coldplay, The Three Tenors, Barbra Streisand, Bon Jovi, Prince, Tim McGraw & Faith Hill, Beyonce, the Dalai Lama, Tina Turner, Keith Urban, Paul Simon and Sting, Taylor Swift, Usher, Disney on Ice and WWE.

In terms of history, only two events have taken place each year at Capital One Arena since it opened, as well as each of the past 40+ years dating back to the old Capital Centre arena making them the longest tenured events between both buildings: the Harlem Globetrotters (1973) and the Washington International Horse Show (1975).

Located within the arena are 106 luxury suites, eight loge boxes, a high-definition center-hung scoreboard, an indoor basketball practice facility and nine dressing rooms. The arena offers a variety of concession stands and restaurants with menu choices ranging from pizza at Papa John's to donuts at Dunkin Donuts. Additional arena fare includes hot dogs, crab cakes, chicken fingers and deli sandwiches. Vegetarian, vegan and gluten-free options are also available.

Other amenities in the arena include the private Owner's Club, the private Acela Club restaurant for club members, Maryland Live! Casino Player's Club, Budweiser Brew House, Etihad Airways Lounge, Draft Ops Fantasy Lounge, The Greene Turtle Sports Bar & Grille, Team Store and VIDA Fitness and Bang Salon.

DAVE JOHNSON PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

The 2019-20 season marks Dave Johnson's 23rd consecutive season as the voice of the Wizards on the Washington Wizards Radio Network.

Along with Glenn Consor, Johnson bring Wizards back to life on the radio with colorful, detailed descriptions and his signature call, "It's There", on big shots from distance. The broadcast is highly interactive with Johnson and Consor reaching out to listeners through twitter in what has become known as the #RadioParty, Johnson is one of the most recognizable broadcasters in the nation's capital and also serves as the morning anchor and Senior Sports Director on top-rated WTOP (103.5 FM). During a 24-year career at WTOP Jonson has won multiple awards as best sportscaster in Washington D.C. and an Edward R. Murrow award for best writing.

In addition Johnson can frequently be seen on television as an anchor on NBC 4 and NBC Sports Washington and handling the play-by-play of Major League Soccer's D.C. United. Johnson previously served as anchor on Fox 5 and was a sideline reporter for the Washington Capitals on Home Team Sports (now NBC Sports Washington).

Among Johnson's other career highlights is an Emmy Award for his work as the host of the NHL's Washington Capitals Face Off television show, an extensive play-by-play resume of college football, college basketball and lacrosse. Johnson has also served as a fill-in on Washington Capitals and Nationals radio broadcasts and was the voice of Naval Academy Sports from 1987-1990.

A 2010 inductee into the Virginia-DC Soccer Hall of Fame, Johnson has broadcast soccer on television for over 25 years including work on ESPN and FOX Sports. Johnson also served as the play-by-play voice for the 2006 FIFA World Cup on XM radio, for whom he called over 20 matches, including the World Cup final in Berlin.

A graduate of Towson University, Dave and his wife, Diane, live in Annapolis, MD. Their son Pierce is a freshman at the University of Delaware.

GLENN CONSOR COLOR ANALYST

The 2019-20 season marks Glenn Consor's 13th season as the color analyst and post-game call-in show host on the Washington Wizards Radio Network. Alongside 23-year play-by-play veteran Dave Johnson, Consor brings over two decades of experience covering the Wizards to the booth.

After 20 years covering the Wizards for various media outlets, most recently for NBC Sports Washington as an analyst on the network's live postgame show, Consor added a new perspective of watching the Wizards to his resume during the 2007-08 season. Previously, from 1990-95 Consor was a scout for the Wizards franchise and Indiana Pacers.

In addition to his work with the Wizards, Consor has served as a basketball analyst for NBA-TV, Home Team Sports, ESPN's regional college basketball broadcasts, Sports Talk 980, Westwood One's coverage of the NCAA Tournament, and Comcast SportsNet's collegiate broadcasts. Consor is a fixture on Monumental Sports Network and provides periodic Wizards analysis for NBC Sports Washington as well, and served as Wizards Camp Director in the summer of 2009 for two youth basketball camps.

In his playing days, Consor started for four years for Hall of Fame Coach Rick Pitino at Boston University, before playing professionally in Israel. Originally from Flushing Queens, New York, Consor currently resides in Rockville, Maryland with his wife, Mara, and two sons, Kenny, and Jonny.

JUSTIN KUTCHER PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

The 2020-2021 NBA season marks the second for Justin Kutcher as the Wizards play-by-play announcer.. Kutcher has 17 years of experience as a play-by-play announcer, joining NBC Sports Washington after spending the previous seven years at Fox Sports, where he led national coverage of NCAA basketball and football, the NFL and MLB. Prior to FOX Sports, Kutcher served as a play-by-play announcer for ESPN for four years. During that time, he led live coverage for a variety of sports, including basketball, football, baseball, softball, volleyball and hockey, across professional, college and high school leagues and conferences. He also appeared on studio shows during his tenure with ESPN. In addition to FOX Sports and ESPN, he has also called collegiate events for CSTV, now CBS Sports Network, for two years, as well as BTN, and contributed to MLB.com digital programming.

DREW GOODEN ANALYST

The 2020-2021 NBA campaign is the second for Drew Gooden as primary analyst for Washington Wizards' games. Prior to this role, Gooden was NBC Sports Washington's lead analyst for Wizards pregame and postgame coverage and a secondary game analyst.. Before to joining NBCSW in 2017, he was an NBA ambassador and appeared regularly on ESPN, FS1, NBATV and SiriusXM Radio. As a player, he spent 14 years in the NBA, posting career averages of 11.0 points and 7.1 rebounds per game. In Gooden's two stints with the Wizards (2013-2016), he helped the team advance to the conference semifinals in 2014 and 2015. Gooden was also an instrumental piece in the Cleveland Cavaliers 2006-07 finals appearance, averaging 11.4 points and 8.0 rebounds per game during the playoffs.
